This list is of all the places the bus stops, followed by all the times the bus stops there.

Sometimes there are service restrictions which will appear under 'Mondays to Fridays' and above the timetable. The abbreviated service restrictions meanings will be explained at the bottom of every timetable. 'Col' means this service operates only when Mildenhall College is open, this means that all the times listed under that service restriction will not run if it's out of term time.

How to read bus timetables - Online

Bus timetables are often easier to read online and are likely to be more up to date than those posted at bus stops. If you know the service number and bus company, simply type this into Google to find the company's online timetable e.g. 'Bus 16 Stephensons of Essex'. If you do not know the service number or bus company but know somewhere you would like to travel to you can also use Google by typing in for example 'bus Red Lodge to Bury St Edmunds' and this will list routes that Google has calculated for you as well as webpages offering a bus service that matches your criteria.

If you visit the Stephensons of Essex website and go to Route 16 then you would see something similar to the table to the left, in this case it is pretty similar to the timetables you would see at the bus stop. There will be two tables, one after the other which show the different directions of travel. The table lists all of the places the bus stops in the first column and in the following columns it lists the times the bus will stop there.

From the table you can see that on weekdays, travelling from Red Lodge to Bury St Edmunds there are buses every hour. A bus reaches Red Lodge at 0721 which would then arrive in Bury St Edmunds at 0845.
